

How a Tick Can Make You Sick: Class Review

1.	Lyme disease was named after a town in Connecticut called Lyme, where the disease was first recognized.	True	False
2.	Which tick is known to sometimes run after a potential host?	a. American dog tick	b. Lone star tick
		c. Deer tick	d. Western black legged tick
3.	All 50 U.S. states have had reported cases of Lyme disease.	True	False
4.	The tick sucks blood from its host using which part of the body?	a. hypodermic	b. hypostome
		c. straw
5.	The word bacterium is singular or plural?	a. singular	b. plural
6.	Your pet can be a carrier for ticks which can then hop onto you.	True	False
7.	Which of these can get Lyme disease?	a. dog	b. human
		c. cat	d. all of the above
8.	A tick can pass along only one type of disease at a time.	True	False
9.	If you have long hair and are outside in an area that has a lot of ticks, what is the best thing to do to protect yourself from ticks?	a. Tie up your hair	b. Tuck your hair under a hat
		c. a and b	d. none of the above
10.	Which tick transmits the Borrelia lonestari bacterium?	a. American dog tick	b. Lone star tick
		c. Deer tick	d. Western black legged tick
11.	Ticks often contract various bacteria after biting which animal?	a. cat	b. deer
		c. dog	d. white footed mouse
12.	Deer ticks look for meals using a method called:	a. searching	b. questing
		c. journeying	d. seeking